He Said/She Said For Bride & Groom-to-be Questions about the Couple

Make your ceremony exactly what you want, and not the stuffy boring Ceremony that everyone has seen in the past.

Try to be as open as possible. I promise that I will not divulge anything embarrassing or potentially hurtful to someone else during your ceremony! However, the more information I have, the more I will be able to paint a meaningful picture of who you and your partner are.

You don't have to answer every one of the questions below, but it gives you a sense of what you can write about for me. Feel free to add additional Q&A lines if needed, if you have something you really want to share that is not listed.

Do not include items that you do not want disclosed

How did you meet?
When was your first date and what was it like?
Do you have any children or pets?
When did you "know" that they were the right person?
When did you first say, "I love you?"
What does the commitment of marriage mean to you?
How did you get engaged?
What are your nicknames for each other?
What's something quirky or unique about your relationship?
How has your partner made you a better person?

What do you like to do together? (keep it rated PG)
What type of music do you like or favorite band?
What is your favorite food?
What is your favorite movie and/or TV Show?
Do you have any "Pet Peeves"?
How does your partner make you feel?
Who is your Hero?
How would you describe your relationship?
How do you describe your fiancé to people who are hearing about him/her for the first time?
What, if anything, do you expect to change about your relationship after this wedding (other than more free time, of course)?
What are you most looking forward to about your life together, after this wedding?
What do you see when you think about your longer-term future together?
Anything Else?

Use an additional piece of paper for additional space if needed.

I know some of the questions are intense. As I said, you do not have answer all of them. This is meant to be helpful to me and not to make you feel at all uncomfortable. Your answers will be very helpful in preparing your wedding ceremony. Remember, do not show your answers to each other – send them only back to me! I will save a copy of your answers in your file.

Option #4 Marriage Ceremony

SOLEMNIZER: This couple has come here today to be joined in marriage. The essence of this commitment is the taking of another person in his or her entirety as a lover, companion and friend. It is therefore a decision not to be entered into lightly but rather with great consideration and respect for both the other person and oneself.

GROOM and BRIDE have invited us to share in this celebration as they affirm their love before us, pledge their faith to one another and enter into the joys and privilege of marriage. Love is one of the highest experiences we human beings can have and it can add depth of meaning to our lives. The day-to-day companionship, the pleasure in doing things together or in doing separate things but exchanging experiences, is a continuous and central part of what two people who love each other can share.

Marriage was established that two people might have life-long companionship, that natural instincts and affections might be fulfilled in mutual love, that children should enjoy the security of family life, love and home.

Marriage symbolizes the intimate sharing of two lives, yet this sharing must not diminish but enhance the individuality of each partner. A happy marriage is one which is continually developing while growing in understanding of the other person. By growing together in love, it is possible to share not only the joys of life but the burdens of sorrow as well.

GROOM and BRIDE your marriage is intended to join you in a relationship so intimate and personal, it will change your whole being. It offers you the hope and indeed the promise of a love that is true and mature. To attain such love, you will have to commit yourselves to each other freely and gladly for the sake of a richer and deeper life together.

If any person can show just cause why they may not be joined in marriage, let him speak now or forever hold his peace.

SOLEMNIZER to GROOM: Repeat after me, please.

“I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I may not be joined in matrimony to _____.”

SOLEMNIZER to BRIDE: Repeat after me, please.

“I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I may not be joined in matrimony to _____”

SOLEMNIZER to GROOM: Do you take _____ to be your lawful wedded wife? Then repeat after me.

“I call upon these persons here present to witness that I, _____ do take you _____ to be my lawful wedded wife.

To laugh with you in joy
To grieve with you in sorrow To grow with you in love
To be faithful to you alone As long as we both shall live

Do you accept?"

SOLEMNIZER to BRIDE: Do you take _____ to be your lawful wedded husband? Then repeat after me:

"I call upon these persons here present to witness that I, _____ do take you _____ to be my lawful wedded husband.

To laugh with you in joy
To grieve with you in sorrow To grow with you in love
To be faithful to you alone As long as we both shall live
Do you accept?"

SOLEMNIZER to GROOM: Repeat after me, please.

"This ring is my precious gift to you as a measure of my love and as a sign that from this day forward your every breath shall be surrounded by my love."

SOLEMNIZER to BRIDE Repeat after me, please.

"This ring is my precious gift to you as a measure of my love and as a sign that from this day forward your every breath shall be surrounded by my love."

I, SOLEMNIZER, by virtue of the powers vested in me by the Marriage Act, do hereby pronounce you _____ and _____ to be husband and wife.

You may kiss.

As you enter upon your marriage, consider that the honour of the nation and its people is based upon the quality of its homes, and the future of the nation is in the hands of the issue of each home.

Let your home be a haven of peace in the middle of a busy and business like world; let your relationship be one of complete truth and understanding between you both; respect the confidences of your partner in this marriage, and consider that as the work give nothing freely, neither will your marriage yield you more than you give into it.

May you enjoy length of days, fulfillment of hopes, and peace and contentment of mind, as you day by day live and fulfill the terms of this covenant you have made with one another.

After signing of the Register, officiant announces: May I introduce to you the married couple.

Option Renewal Ceremony

Welcome & Opening

Good relationships never stop growing. Like fine wine, they get better with age. Groom and Bride, you have now been married years and through all the years of your journey together, you have now come to this beautiful setting, so that you could renew your vow and commitment of love for each other.

No marriage is perfect. As you continue in this union, you already know that it will continue to take a lot of love and work to keep your relationship an ongoing success.

Many couples tend to think of marriage as a 50/50 proposition. Actually, the best relationships are 90/10. If you both will give 90% and take only 10%, you will have a formula likely to continue to bring both of you happiness for a lifetime.

As you continue on your journey together, I ask you to remember this advice: Let your love be stronger than your anger.

Learn the wisdom of compromise, for it is better to bend than to break. Believe the best of your beloved rather than the worst.

Confide in your partner and ask for help when you need it.

Remember that true friendship is the basis for any lasting relationship.

Give your spouse the same courtesies and kindnesses you bestow on your friends. Say "I love you" every day.

You may wish to add a reading or song here.

Vows:

Groom and Bride, I remind you that marriage is a precious gift; a lifelong dedication to love and a daily challenge to love one another more fully and more freely.

With this understanding, do you Groom, continue to take Bride as your beloved wife?

Will you continue to be a tender, faithful husband?

Will you continue to love and cherish her, in sickness and in health, for richer for poorer, for better for worse, and keep yourself only unto her?

With this understanding, do you Bride; continue to take Groom as your beloved husband? Will you continue to be a tender, faithful wife?

Will you continue to love and cherish him, in sickness and in health, for richer for poorer, for better for worse, and keep yourself only unto him?

You may wish to add a reading or song here.

Rings

Groom and Bride have rings as the outward symbols of your ongoing commitment to each other.

From earliest times, the ring has been a symbol of wedded love. An unbroken and never-ending circle symbolizes a commitment to love that is also never ending.

Groom, hold Bride's hand, touch her ring, symbolically giving it to her again, and say to her these words.

From this day on, I recommit myself to you, and this ring is a symbol of my pledge.

Bride, hold Groom's hand, touch his ring, symbolically giving it to him again, and say to him these words.

From this day on, I recommit myself to you, and this ring is a symbol of my pledge.

Let these rings serve not as locks binding you together, but as keys, unlocking the secrets of your hearts for each other to know, and thus bringing you closer together forever.

Closing

May the sun bring you new energy by day. May the moon softly restore you by night.
May the rain wash away your worries.
And may you live the days of your lives in peace, love, and happiness.

Pronouncement:

Groom and Bride, having witnessed your vows of affirmation with all who are assembled here, and by the authority of love itself, I do affirm that you have expressed your desire to continue as husband and wife.

Kiss:

You may seal your vows with a kiss.

Presentation:

Ladies and gentlemen, it is my honor to present to you, once again as husband and wife: Groom and Bride!
